MONEY TALKS: BUT WHAT THE HELL IS IT SAYING?!

Two Local Women Artists Take Their Almost-Broadway Musical to Prisons, Churches, and Schools.

Honolulu, Hawaii – August 7, 2015 – When 38-year-old international singer/songwriter Lucie Lynch met 61-year-old international best-selling author Marcia Zina Mager they were both struggling with Hawaii’s high cost of living. But instead of going to a financial planner or applying for loans they embarked on the unpredictable adventure of writing a full length Broadway-style musical about their money issues. That 18-month journey eventually transformed into a brazenly honest 75 minute Ted Talkish musical chronicling the ups and downs of their intensive creative project: MONEY TALKS: But What the Hell is it Saying?! is a funny, serious, and insightful theatrical experience that includes scenes and songs from their Broadway work-in-progress. MONEY TALKS explores one of the most profound questions of the 21st century: Am I inherently worthy whether I have money in the bank or not?

The show debuted in February at the Oahu Fringe Festival, breaking box office records; received standing ovations from a hundred drug rehab residents at Habilitat; and continues to take Hawaii audiences by storm: Wards Rafters, May 9, 2015; Unity Church Diamond Head fundraiser, May 22, 2015; Oahu Women’s Correctional Facility, September 17, 2015; Calvary by the Sea fundraiser, September 25, 2015.

“Poignant, irreverent, and downright hilarious!”

MONEY TALKS recently joined forces with 53-year-old Oahu minister and dynamic entrepreneur June Dillinger to create an edu-tainment event titled LOVE & MONEY that combines live musical theatre with personal development. On August 29, 2015 at Windward Unity Church participants can attend a free performance of MONEY TALKS followed by a workshop, What’s My Worth? led by June Dillinger and inspired by the show’s themes. (Watch the interview with Lucie & Marcia on June’s Olelo show, It’s All About Love, airing Tuesdays, Aug. 11, 18, 25, Sept. 1st at 11 pm on Channel 53)
